

valencia orange

REGREENING

ORANGES' NATURAL DEFENSE

- High temperatures can reactivate the naturally occurring chlorophyll in ripe orange rinds—sometimes causing a green hue that helps protect the fruit from sunburn.
- This process, “regreening,” is common during the summer months (or anytime the weather is hot)—oranges remain sweet, juicy, and delicious!

MARKON.COM